Subject: RE: BM EPA in Bologna - update II on Food Waste event - QUESTION ON FORMAT
Importance: High

Hi [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy]

I received a question about the food waste event format from one of the invited speakers. They have been preparing presentations, which they know would not be projected, but thought they would still be able to make them and use handouts. Not sure if you were involved in any detailed discussions about the event format, but if so, do you think they will still be expecting to deliver the presentations at all, or is the whole thing a discussion now? I think they can be flexible, but it would be nice to continue to offer them at least a brief opportunity to make remarks.

Thanks for any info you can share,

Alexis

There is not much to see about FICO at the moment so the tour is really short. Please advise them to wear business casual since it will be rather hot in there and it is still in construction

Alexis, I am only the messenger on this as I was just sharing the update from [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy]. So I would defer to her to clarify those details.

In fact, I am copying Fede here so that she can respond to your questions.

Best,
Anna

Thanks!

It looks as though the start time and end time for this event have also changed. Is this correct, Anna? If so, will pass on the participants, though they will also be on-site beforehand for the lunch. Are there any other changes, other than the MOU signing, that you caught that I should make them aware of?

Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy thanks for your patience. Attached is the updated version of the memo for you to review.

ESTH folks: I just updated the Segré bio to reflect that he is also the President of FICO Foundation (one of the four entities that will be signing the MOU tomorrow at the food waste event), and noted throughout that FICO is being built on the grounds of CAAB (to explain CAAB's role in the event).

Eataly is very excited on their website about the signing. See below:
